

Show off your awesomeness!

What's up with resumes, online presence and portfolios?

@_xiomara7

When employers want you to have 10 years of experience before the age of 22.

It could be tedious and challenging...

How ever can my brilliance be captured in a one-page resume?

But we (need, have) to show off our awesomeness!

RESUME

Resume

Do:

- Use bullets instead of paragraphs
- Customize your resume for a specific role.
- Include ways to contact you (email, phone number)
- Think in terms of accomplishments:
 - ex: Fixed X amount / % of bugs in company software/open-source project

Resume

Don't:

- More than one page (unless your experience requires it)
- Do not use a funny yet controversial email address
- Don't ever lie on your resume

ONLINE PRESENCE

I'm eating a #donut.

I like donuts.

This is where I eat donuts.

Instagram

Here's a vintage photo of my donut.

Here I am eating a donut.

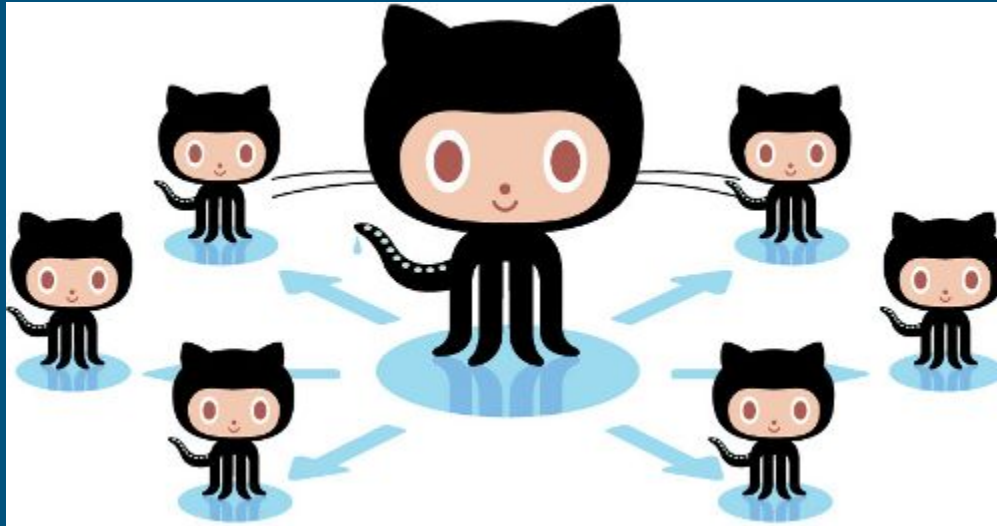

My skills include donut eating.

Online presence

- Facebook
- Twitter
- Instagram
- Snapchat
- LinkedIn
